SCHÄTTI PRESENTS NEW COLOURS AND MATERIAL FINISHES FOR JÖRG BONER'S LIGHTING
COLLECTION AT NEUE RÄUME 2026 IN ZÜRICH, SWITZERLAND

SCHÄTTI LIGHTING COLLECTION EXPANDS ITS COLOUR SPECTRUM FOR WORK AND LIVING SPACES

Five carefully selected colours and surface finishes expand the existing range, opening up new possibilities for the individual design of light and space in work and living environments. The metal luminaires thereby acquire a distinctive, contemporary character. Three new colour shades are expertly powder-coated in-house at SCHÄTTI, while two additional finishes featuring electroplated nickel and blackened surfaces add further material depth. Combined with the clear, pared-back design language of Swiss designer Jörg Boner, these new finishes create a contemporary evolution of the established models.

Ochre, pigeon blue and pale yellow introduce fresh accents, bringing carefully considered touches of colour to interiors. Electroplated nickel finishes and burnished steel expand the palette with metallic tones and deeper nuances. The luminaire itself thus becomes a versatile design element that integrates naturally into a wide range of spatial concepts. With this expanded palette, SCHÄTTI combines precise Swiss design with greater creative freedom, demonstrating how colour, surface and light can shape the atmosphere of a space.
